MAYOR RIZZO'S FIRST ANNUAL "POTHOLE REPORT"

City Government's new use of data shows over 2,000 potholes filled since January 2014

Potholes are not only a roadway distraction but in many cases, if left unattended, can cause serious damage to vehicles. In an effort to update residents on efforts being made by the Department of Public Works, Mayor Rizzo is publishing his first annual "Pothole Report" which will come out in July of each year. The report will summarize the number of potholes filled by the Department of Public Works between January and June of each year.

The Department of Public Works has been using SeeClickFix, a mobile constituent services device, along with a new work order management system, which have enabled the department to strategically respond to potholes across the city. From January 1, 2014 through June 25, 2014 the Department of Public Works has filled 2,035 potholes. Below are some charts and graphs which summarize the pothole situation in the City of Revere. Data is preliminary and it does not cover all work completed by the department.

“We all know that our DPW is in need of additional resources but we cannot let that stop us from meeting the demands of a growing urban community. I am proud of the efforts made by the DPW over the past 6 months to fill over 2,000 potholes across the city. Thanks to our use of SeeClickFix, and our work order management system, we can respond to potholes in a much more effective way than in years past,” stated Mayor Rizzo.

The Department of Public Works will continue to work as fast as possible to address potholes that have not been filled across the city. The Pothole Report is meant as a way for residents to understand efforts underway already to address potholes. Residents are encouraged to use SeeClickFix to report potholes along with other quality of life issues.
